Good Evening,

To whom this may concern, i thank you for taking the time to review and consider our comments on the matter, being able to consider the people who actually deal with the consequences of a larger entities actions is the foundation of what our societies are built on to function correctly. As i know you will hear, understand and make a just decision i would like you to consider the following.

Every single person ive spoken to has complained about the cost of utilities with Innpower.

I have personally compared my bills, and usage with also other friends ours seem to always end up higher.

Previoualy ive lived in Toronto, Missisauga, Durham, Brampton, East York, etc. These are some of the highest rates ive paid to just use basic neccesities of a residence.

We always keep lights off, use main consumption after 7pm or on weekend, and take any other precautions as per recommendation, but not much seems to help.

Even when traveling, and having turned off our services for 6 weeks we still recieve bills of $150-200 regardless.

In a time of growing economic hardship canadians are facing, everyday canadians should be assisted to get through these times as many canadians are barely making ends meet, living pay cheque to pay cheque.

These are times that financial lightening should be applied, and relief should be applied not the other way around.

This is a common topic, and theme ammoung many residence of the area, very common issue with over priced billing already as is.

Consider the effect this will compound and have on everyday people.

I ask the board not grant the early expense raise or consider it in 2027, as opposed to 2029 original date.

Thank you for your consideration.
